Q1. Read the passage given below carefully and answer the following questions.

Forests are an important part of our planet. They cover large areas of land and are home to many plants and animals. Forests help keep the air clean by absorbing carbon dioxide and releasing oxygen. They also help control the climate by keeping the temperature balanced.

Forests play a major role in preventing soil erosion. The roots of trees hold the soil together and stop it from being washed away by rain. Many people depend on forests for wood, medicines, fruits, and fuel. Forests also provide shelter and livelihood to tribal communities.

However, forests are being destroyed at a fast rate due to cutting of trees, forest fires, and urban development. If deforestation continues, it can lead to climate change, loss of wildlife, and shortage of rainfall. Therefore, it is important to protect forests and use forest resources wisely.

(i) What is one major role of forests mentioned in the passage?
(a) They increase pollution
(b) They absorb oxygen
(c) They help keep the air clean

Apart from physical benefits, exercise has a positive effect on mental health. It reduces stress, improves mood, and increases concentration. Children who exercise regularly often feel more energetic and perform better in their studies.

However, due to busy schedules and excessive screen time, many children do not get enough exercise. Playing outdoor games, cycling, walking, and yoga are simple ways to stay active. Developing the habit of daily exercise from a young age leads to a healthier and happier life.
